Investment and Overseas Assets Cover

Does your business invest overseas or receive dividends from international investments?

Does your company provide loans to companies overseas or hold international assets?

If so, then our specialised cover for investments and overseas assets can provide protection from a range of hazards that could place your investments, assets or the receipt of dividends and loan repayments at risk.

The cover provided is extensive and protects your business against the political risk associated with overseas investments.

The risks of confiscation, nationalisation and the selective discrimination against overseas investors, political violence and the risk of business interruption can be covered when combined with protection for the underlying investment.

Where you hold overseas equity or make loans to an overseas investment, the insurance can also provide protection against the risk of being unable to benefit from dividend payments as a result of currency inconvertibility.

Physical assets can also be included, whether they are stocks, plant or equipment.

This highly flexible cover is tailored to match your precise needs and can be provided on a single investment basis, a portfolio basis or structured as an excess layer, as required.
